8. Report of 2012 Central Council Meeting

Tony Smith reported that four representatives had attended the meeting in Chester over the Jubilee weekend.

Bill Butler was elected a life member of the Council. Andrew Barnsdale, a member of the Alton & Petersfield District now representing the Sussex County Association, had proposed that peals rung on the simulator should be statistically analysed in the peals report.

Peter Niblett reported that discussion focussed on issues around the recruitment and retention of younger ringers as the average age of ringers was increasing with a large proportion now being over sixty years old. In order to encourage and improve the teaching of new ringers, the Integrated Teacher Training Scheme (ITTS) had been created and a paper giving information on this was circulated at the meeting. This initiative was particularly aimed at those ringers who had not taught at all or only a little and a course at Bishopstoke would be run in November 2012.

Nigel Herriott, Chairman of the Ringing World Ltd and ex-officio member of the Central Council, urged everyone to subscribe to the Ringing World and encourage others to do so as well. It was now possible to subscribe to receive an electronic copy.

9. Bell Restoration Fund

i Trustees Report and Accounts for 2011

Mike Bubb reported that the funds were available for use and members were welcome to make applications. Nigel Herriott raised the issue of putting money towards the training of new ringers and David Strong stated that this would be addressed at the next Executive Committee meeting.

2. Ringwood

Cost of work was £3,975 plus VAT and £4,000 had been raised.
The recommendation was for a grant of £500.

3. St Agatha's, Portsmouth

Cost of work was £33,854 plus VAT and £20,000 had been raised.
The recommendation was for a grant of £4,000

Mike Bubb told the meeting that the Trustees had withdrawn the grant to New Alresford at their own request.

Hugh Routh commented that the bell stock survey forms that had been completed (over 90) were now on the Guild website. The future work that might be needed on the bell stock had not been quantified financially.

10. District Officers' Forums

David Strong reported that three meetings had so far taken place and the objective was to increase communication between the districts. The Education Committee had put on a course for "teaching the teachers" in a response to Forum discussions.

10(a) Life Membership of the Guild

This item was added to the agenda. Alan Price of Lockerley and East Tytherley had been a member of the Guild since 1962 and had therefore completed 50 years' membership of the Guild. David Strong said he would send him congratulations and his Life Membership Certificate.

10(b) Transfer of Bullington to the Winchester District

This item was added to the agenda. Bullington had requested transfer from the Andover District to the Winchester District as this tower was looked after by the Barton Stacey ringers in the Winchester district. This was carried nem con.

11. Discussion on Guild Dinner and future social events

Charlotte Colliss reported that they had only managed to sell just enough tickets for the 2012 Guild dinner in order to break even. There followed discussion on whether members wanted a formal dinner or something more informal. A straw poll showed a slight majority in favour of a formal dinner rather than a less formal event. David Forder suggested that this should be left to the Social Committee to consider what arrangements could be made.

12. Discussion on future Striking Competitions

Mike Hopkins Till had circulated a paper proposing that:

- a) The Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild should seek to form a Striking Contests Committee comprising at least one and not more than four members.
This was not seconded.

- b) Should a Striking Contest Committee be formed, the members of the committee should be actioned to arrange an Inter-District six-bell competition (rules and details to be developed), an Inter-District eight-bell competition (as is currently run), and an Inter-District ten-bell competition (as is currently run). The current Inter-Tower eight-bell competition should be abandoned until more support is found throughout the Guild.

An amendment was proposed by Peter Niblett and seconded by Viv Nobbs and supported by Mike Hopkins Till that the inter-tower six bell competition be kept and the eight-bell competition be abandoned. This was carried.

As a result of further proposals, the meeting recommended that the matter should be left in the hands of the new Striking Committee to take on board the indications given by the meeting.

(This has now increased to 17 peals and 66 quarter peals – a total of 143 pieces of ringing in 100 towers).
